A New Angle On Lighting

The MasterBox TD500 ARGB ATX case approaches PC lighting in a completely new perspective. The front and side panels feature a crystalline structure, designed to uniquely interact with illuminated components such as system hardware and case fans. Three ARGB fans come pre-installed with the TD500, ready to put on a lightshow right out of the box.

Seamless implementation of ventilation provides considerable airflow to the system. With ventilation on the entire perimeter of the front panel, working together with the top & rear panel for thermal performance, ventilation may be hidden from sight but airflow performance remains uncompromised.
